Dear Mr. Chadwick,

I am afraid that I cannot be a great deal of help to you.

I was educated at the Tientsin Grammar School which in the late twenties moved to splendid new premises where Miss Ransom became the Art teacher. She was tall, fairly stern and I would say unfriendly, but it is all a long time ago and I last saw her in 1928 when I was fifteen and left for England in March.

When I returned to China in 1933 September, to teach in the T.G.S., she was no longer there as I recall.

Sincerely

Daphne Woodall.
