

Beloved of God, Greeting:

By A. J. Truesdell

God's will is our wealth: wealth of well being, wealth of life and strength, wealth of health and happiness.

"It is not the will of your Father which is in heaven, that one of these little ones should perish." God does not will suffering or insufficiency. Nothing can interfere with the will of God. "I will give you a mouth and wisdom, which all your adversaries shall not be able to gainsay nor resist."

God's will is our protection and provision. Many times, in fact, most of the time, man forgets this. When he remembers, it becomes his Rock of Integrity, his Source of strength and success.

At times you may have forgotten, but we have remembered and now we bring this to your remembrance as a form of ministry. We delight in ministering to you of this Reality. This delight is the joy of the Lord, which is strength.

The will of God is an extension of Divine Love. And so we remember and recognize, acknowledge and bespeak for you the joy of the Lord which is your strength and the Love of God which is your provision.

As this substance settles down into consciousness, very soon you will feel the activity of its subtle strength, you will witness an increase of supply.

All this we bespeak for you in the Name of the healing, providing Word, in the Name of Jesus Christ, God's will in action.

Sincerely yours,
A.J. Truesdell

TRUST GOD

By H. B. Jeffery

"Commit they way unto the Lord; trust also in Him; and He shall bring it to pass."

The world seems in a topsy-turvy state and people not grounded in Truth, nor abiding in Christ, are bewildered and panic stricken. Happy is the individual who can truthfully and understandingly say, "I know whom I have believed, and am persuaded that He is able to keep that which I have committed unto Him against that day."

False prophets are everywhere in the land leading people with strange doctrines, making all sorts of seducing claims and fantastic promises and, "If . . . possible, they shall deceive the very elect."

It is time in which to seek the innermost and dwell under the shadow of the Almighty and keep the attention stayed on Him that peace may be felt in the midst of turmoil, and tranquility in the midst of strife, joy in the midst of gloom, and laughter in the midst of famine.

Truth Absolute is infinitely more interesting and fascinating than the fabrications of charlatans. Words of Truth have Spirit and Life in them.

On the mountain of divine understanding nothing shall come that can by any means hurt or injure. Those who forsake Truth to pursue false teachers and clamor for false doctrines will find themselves thwarted and bedeviled. These are times for no compromise and no dawdling with falsity. The Truth and nothing but the Truth, undefiled and Absolute, should be the Rock on which to firmly stand and from which to drink.

"They drank of that spiritual Rock that followed them: and that Rock was Christ."

Who is as Strong as God!
Can Power be wrested from Him!
If I trust in Him alone
Will not I be defended!
Then why should I fear?
"None can hurt or destroy
In all this Holy Mountain!"

ONE IS COME.

By A. J. Truesdell

Great were the achievements of Joseph, the Son of Jacob. He was the Savior of Egypt and Provider of his people. But, the Samaritan woman drinking at Jacob's Well, and worshipping at his shrine, looked for One to come.

One came, and said, "I that speak unto thee am He." "If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink; thou wouldest have asked of Him, and He would have given thee living water," or the Principle of the God of Jacob, and Isaac, and Abraham, operative here, now, with all Its Ancient Touch and modern magical performance.

THOUGHTS ARE THINGS

By Nell Truesdell

All form is the product of ideas shaped, or imaged, or thought about, in the mind. The originating idea of any form induces thought and the thought becomes the image. This image in mind is as material as its ultimate manifest form.

This principle applies just as ably to abstract qualities. The manifest experience of joy is an extension of an invisible "image" or thought. Both are material.

The moment you begin to handle any idea with your mind --- extending outward as something tangible --- you have encompassed the formless, spiritual essence, with a form and are interpreting (demonstrating) according to your understanding and appreciation. All form is the result of the extension of spiritual essence or ideas. First the idea, then the thought, then the manifestation.

Thoughts are things. Back of thought is a vast sea of formless substance, generally designated as divine ideas, ready to take instant shape according to your thought. You can dip into this ocean of Good --- for it is All-Good --- to your heart's content and bring forth any thing you wish. Every thought you think is a step in the process of utilizing the formless Good as your desire.

All form, and consequently, all thought, is subject to change --- rearrangement, comparison, and evaluation. This alone indicates its impermanency, its tendency to destruction, for, the instant a form is changed (whether or not for the better) it is destroyed and a different form appears no matter how slight the degree of change.

Again, thoughts are things and things have no value in Spirit. Things are but the shadow cast by Spirit. When you confine your dealing with shadows cast, you are attending to that which has no substance, that which perishes as the mist. Your shadow holds no value for you. It simply indicates you are there. It is because of you.

People work desperately to change their thoughts for the better, to hold good thoughts. This is a terrific strain on the energies, for, the cause of thought not being considered, all such effort finally proves futile.

It is admittedly profitable to think good thoughts. However, when the whole effort is bent in dealing with the quality of thoughts and thinking in sufficient quantity to insure successful demonstration, the mind is encumbered with a practice not particularly satisfactory --- if not altogether harmful.

The question arises, What then, is a profitable exercise of the mind? The one answer containing a germ of beneficial instruction is, Get acquainted with THAT which precedes thought.

What determines thought? The direction of your attention toward some objective before thinking about it. You first gaze toward it with an inner visional faculty, a capacity to look, before you begin to think. This "looking toward" is not with the sight of the outer eyes; it is a perception within.

Since God is Good and the Source of any good you want, whether qualities or visible things, it is profitable to first GIVE your attention (that which enables you to formulate "images" of the Good), to Him. An advanced realization is that the Good itself knows BEST how to formulate itself. But we learn step by step.

"Look unto Me," "Seek my face ever more," "Watch," "Seek first the Kingdom of God," "Lift up your eyes, and look," are but a few commands indicating the primary essential to successful thinking and demonstration.

Then, close your eyes, look up, and let your affirmation be illumined by the Light that comes from above thinking and above being. We shall be meditating with you for we are always practicing the Presence of God. Won't you join us?

THE LORD IS GREAT

The Lord is good to all: and his tender mercies are over all his works.

Cast thy burden upon the Lord, and he shall sustain thee: he shall never suffer the righteous to be moved.

Give unto the Lord the glory due unto his Name: worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness.

If we have forgotten the Name of our God, or stretched out our hands to a strange god;

Shall not God search this out? for he knoweth the secrets of the heart.

I delight to do thy will, O my God: yea, thy law is within my heart.

For I know that the Lord is great, and that our Lord is above all gods.

My heart is fixed, O God, my heart is fixed: I will sing and give praise.

Awake up, my glory.

Who is this King of glory? The Lord of hosts, he is the King of glory.

(Adapted from the Book of Psalms.)

Man never originates thought.
Thought is the activity of ideas in consciousness. Man interprets this action in terms of his own understanding which he calls thinking.

SPIRITICITY, April 1941

Dear Friend:

Let us place your name on our active PRAYER LIST and daily invoke the healing, prospering, redeeming Word of God in your behalf. We have the assurance of our Lord that "Where two or three are gathered together in my Name, there am I in the midst of them."

Since Jesus Christ is the activity of God, when we pray in His Name we sense His Presence and Identity and partake of His Nature and Character. Jesus Christ was, and still is, the demonstration of God, and acknowledgment of His Name blesses us with increasing comprehension of his Good.

It makes no difference how near or far removed we are from each other, when we draw nigh unto the Loving Father in prayer instantly we are "gathered together" in His Name --- we are identified as ONE with Him. For we are all ONE in Spirit.

The ministry of the CHRIST TRUTH LEAGUE is ever ready to serve you. Your free will offering for blessings received through this paper will be consecrated to furthering this work of spiritual service to all who ask. Your gift identifies you with this service and you receive its benefits in unstinting measure.

Now, let us extend rich blessings of peace, plenty, and fullness to you in His Name.

Lovingly yours,
Nell Truesdell
